

Supply

Workplace Productivity

We recognise the challenge of co-ordinating multiple aspects of your IT operations and aligning them with your business needs. We proactively engage with other areas of our SCC portfolio, to provide you a unified service delivery and supply chain to deliver your Workplace Productivity strategy.

Our internal Supply service delivers a complete end-to-end Workplace Productivity solution facilitating product procurement, configuration, logistics, recycling and disposals. We leverage our strategic supplier partnerships to deliver a seamless service that incorporates all your IT supply needs.

Our Supply services enable us to bring together the best elements of our portfolio on your behalf to offer true business value to your organisation.

Supply

All of SCC Supply services are modular, enabling us to find the right fit for your Workplace Productivity solution. These solutions can incorporate a mixture of both on-premise and cloud based propositions, delivered from across the company wide portfolio of services:

- Workplace Productivity Cloud Services
- Unified Communications and Audio-Visual solutions
- Desktop as a Service
(Cloud based delivery of your corporate desktop)
- Device as a Service
(Intelligent finance models around product supply)
- Managed print solutions
- Software as a Service
- Communications and Connectivity
- Cloud based PABX solutions

Key Benefits of Supply

- Ability to scale to meet BAU, project or transformation demand
- Single Supplier, end to end supply chain services
- Flexibility to create a single combined contract for all your IT operational needs
- An expansive network of partners and business contacts to provide the best outcome for your business

Why Partner with SCC?

All organisations have users that will all have high expectations of the devices, networks and system they use the goal for any business should be to provide a seamless user experience that meets security and compliance requirements. SCC, as part of its supply chain can offer true value and savings to any organisation, providing services under a unified contract.

We provide the right product and services on time, to budget, while maintaining a committed focus on user experience and IT strategy alignment.

All enquiries : info@scc.com

Further info : scc.com

Call our team : 0121 766 7000

