Modernise your workflows with UVu content services platform

Cutting costs and staying competitive are at the top of any organisation's priorities. As we continue to adapt to new hybrid working practices that have become embedded into our ways of working, smaller businesses (SMEs) can't afford to waste time on manual methods of working.

SCC Document Services streamlines your processes while giving you the freedom and flexibility your business needs. In a nutshell, we bring people, processes and technology together to give you control over how you store, share and secure documents in all its formats.

Using the latest technology and top-level expertise, SCC Document Services converges print, IT and document-related digitisation, enabling end-users to seamlessly collaborate and work together, wherever that may be. With SCC you can avoid using up value cash flow to fund new equipment that is expensive to own outright. Instead you benefit from flexible terms for software and hardware - backed by our expertise in right-sizing the technology for your needs.

Increase workplace productivity with UVu

Disorganised and inaccessible data – sound familiar? Digitise your processes with UVu, a content services platform that delivers a single, consolidated unified view of business processes, allowing you to manage information and improve compliance across all of your systems.

What does this mean for you?

Your content, documents, data and back-office processes can be managed through a dedicated, cloud-based ecosystem that supports remote working and collaborative communication.

Scrap paper-based processes and go digital to get your systems in shape and save money.

SCC's UVu content service platform lets you:

• Manage your business content and convert it into useable data in a matter of minutes with UVu Content and Policy.

• Create, review and approve contracts to drive consistency and transparency with UVu Contract.

• Automate and track the review and approval of invoices as well as other financial business processes to ensure they're paid on time with UVu Invoice.

Simplify the handling of your numerical documents and manage and process invoices, receipts, purchase orders, financial statements and tax documents all in one place, improving efficiency and minimising risk with UVu Vault.

Increase workplace productivity with Outbound Hybrid Mail

Managing outbound communication to your customers can be time-consuming, distracting and expensive. But then Covid made things twice as difficult.

SCC's outbound mail solution allows you to send digital files to our dedicated and secure Shared Service Centre. Reliable, secure and great for remote working – this digital mail solution addresses the problems that traditional Post Room facilities frequently encounter.

What benefits does it deliver for your business?

· Improved data security

· Saves on space in offices

· Streamlines the printing process

· Enables documents to be stored and archived

Upgrade your technology and keep your cash-flow in mind.

Predicting the future for any business is unclear. Cash flow fluctuates and employee headcounts shift up and down. SCC Document Service lets you upgrade your business technology while providing you with the flexibility you need to up-scale and down-scale to your business needs without the risk.

So, if you're interested in UVu and Outbound Hybrid Mail solutions, why not use SCC's Flexibility offering to finance these business upgrades?

Why you might want Flexibility:

· Short and longer term finance options

· Tap into on-demand subscription services

· Enjoy the latest printing and scanning technology

Turn today's document challenges into opportunities that shape and support the workforce to make smarter, sharper decisions.
